RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

The First Annual Institute of the Knox county Farmers was held at the chapel of the Barbourville Institute, beginning last Monday morning.

It was about ten o'clock when President W. M. Tye called the house to order and asked Rev. T. B. Stratton to offer prayer.

This was followed by the Red Men's Cornet Band in an opening which was the first appearance of our Band in public. The music was rendered in a manner that brought forth praise from all sides and speaks well for Prof. Baker who has only been training the boys about six weeks.

Next in order was the Address of welcome, which was to have been delivered by Judge Jas. D. Black, but on account of his absence Hon. W. C. Black our Representative in the Lower House of the Kentucky Legislature was called for and responded in a short address which was very interesting. He was responded to by Hon. Hubert Vreeland, Commissioner of Agriculture, in a splendid address.

The next speaker was Senator R. C. Crenshaw, Assistant Commissioner of Agriculture—Subject: Best System of Crop Rotation to Maintain Fertility of the Soil. This was a very instructive lecture and was enjoyed and appreciated by the large assembly of farmers present.

This was followed by an address by Col. C. M. Hanna, of Shelby county, in a very interesting talk, after which the meeting adjourned until the afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session was called to order at two o'clock by the President W. M. Tye, and Mesdames H. C. Black and G. A. Lock rendered some choice selections on the piano. This was followed by First Vice President J. D. Jarvis in an address, Subject: Our Local Needs.

This was followed by an address by Prof. J. N. Harper, of Lexington, Subject: Improved Methods on Corn Growing. This was a very interesting and instructive lecture and was appreciated by the farmers present.

EVENING SESSION.

The evening session had been arranged as the entertaining part of the meeting and intended especially to entertain the ladies and children but unfortunately in this respect there was some disappointment. Prof. J. N. Harper of Lexington, who lectured, with his Stereopticon views to illustrate the lecture, had great difficulty in getting his machine to perform its part of the program, and much delay was caused in this respect. During the time Miss Mayo Tinsley rendered some choice selections on the piano which made the time of the delay appear much shorter to the audience. However the people were patient and after a time every thing was in working order and the lecture proceeded. He was followed by Col. Hanna in a short talk, and he by Senator Crenshaw, after which the meeting adjourned for the night.

TUESDAY MORNING.

Tuesday morning a number again assembled at the Institute and Miss Nellie Barner rendered some choice selections on the piano and Judge McDonald gave one of his splendid lectures on Cattle, Beef and Dairy. He was followed by Col. Crenshaw, Senator Hanna, and Commissioner Vreeland in some splendid talks, after which the meeting adjourned sine die.

Before adjournment however the following resolutions were introduced by Representative W. C. Black and unanimously adopted.

Be it Resolved: That the Farmers Club of Knox County, in Institute assembled, is very grateful to the Commissioner of Agriculture, the Hon. Hubert Vreeland, for the keen interest and most earnest endeavor he has taken toward making our institute an appreciative and practical success.

Be it Further Resolved: That to Col. R. C. Crenshaw, Mr. R. C. Hanna, and Prof. Harper are due much credit for their hearty co-operation with the Commissioner in entertaining the Farmers Club as they have so successfully done.

Be it Further resolved: That the Farmers Club of Knox County pledges its undivided support with the Commissioner of Agriculture toward the unification and organization of the several county clubs into a State Federation of Farmers Clubs for the lasting benefit of individual citizenship and the growing prosperity of our Commonwealth.

Be it Resolved: That the Farmers Club of Knox County, in Institute assembled, does hereby express its sincere thanks to the Trustees of the Barbourville Baptist Institute for their kindness in opening the doors of their chapel to the Farmers Club for the purpose of holding their first annual institute. We wish for the school continual prosperity in educating the youths of this community and surrounding country.

Resolved further. That the Club is indebted to the Red Men's Cornet Band, Mrs. H. C. Black, Mrs. G. A. Lock, Misses Tinsley and Barner for entertaining so pleasantly with Shakespeare's "Food of Life"—Music.

To our worthy President, Mr. William Tye, the Club is a gracious and appreciative debtor for his zeal, enthusiasm, fidelity in making the first annual institute of the Knox County Farmers Club a howling success and thereby placed its organization on a firm rock of stability and unswerving firmness.

To the Editor of the Mountain Advocate is due a large share of praise for his loyal enthusiasm and inestimable service rendered through the columns of Eastern Kentucky's leading journal—the Paul Reverre to every home.

W. C. BLACK.

After the adoption of these resolutions the following resolution was offered and adopted: In consideration of the valuable services rendered by his untiring energy in behalf of the Knox County Farmers' Club, the Hon. W. C. Black, be and is hereby made an honorary President of said organization. This resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote.

This marked the close of the first Farmers Institute ever held in South-eastern Kentucky, and we feel safe in saying that all and in all the meeting was a decided success. The farmers were instructed in the farming industry in a way that they never were before in this section and views and opinions were exchanged which will doubtless result in great good in the future.

We were glad to have these distinguished citizens with us and hope that they may make a return visit at some future date when the farmers are not rushed with their work and we assure them that we will have a larger audience out to hear them.

Important Notice.

I wish to inform the citizens of Knox county that a serious epidemic of small-pox is eminent unless all supposed cases of chicken-pox, mumps, etc. that are in reality proving to be smallpox be reported to Board of Health. In every instance measures towards quarantine should be taken immediately.

V. V. ANDERSON,
Health Officer.

DEATH OF REV. W. C. JUDD.

Rev. W. C. Judd, pastor of the Grays circuit, M. E. Church, died at his home on Trace Branch Wednesday of smallpox. He had been sick but a short time. Rev. Judd was one of the best known ministers of this section. Obituary next week.

The fourth of July is drawing near and every lover of liberty, every lover of our country, every lover of our American flag, everyone who has a spark of patriotism in his soul will feel like celebrating this our greatest national holiday.

The Improved Order of Red Men of Barbourville, have arranged for a delightful celebration at the Fair Grounds on that day. Now let everybody come and join in this grand celebration and make it a day of pleasure and entertainment.

The American Indian was the first to claim this country of ours, but the march of civilization has driven him toward the setting sun, until to-day there are only a handful of that once great race of people.

The pale-faced nation has learned many of the ways and customs practiced by the red man and have now an organization founded and named for this now almost extinct race of people. We have a tribe of this peculiar organization here, and they will be out in full uniform on the 4th and will entertain you in grand style. Don't fail to be there.

The first Farm-rs Institute ever held in South-eastern Kentucky was held in this city this week, and we believe we voice the sentiment of every farmer who attended, when we say the meeting was a successful one.

The four gentlemen composing the visiting party from a distance were well informed and told their story in a plain, easy manner and talked as man to man.

They explained in detail, what should be done to improve our farming industry here, and it is hoped that our farmers will heed the advice given, and we feel sure they will profit by it.

THE meeting here this week of the Farmers Institute has shown to the farmers what might be done by properly organizing and working to the interest of themselves. Let's not allow the interest in this very important enterprise to lag, but let's make every meeting a profitable one to every farmer who attends.

Let's not lose sight of the importance of erecting the new Court house and improving our road system. It will be worth much to our county.

Excursions to the West

To the Pacific Coast—to California, Oregon, Washington—round-trip, long trunk and return limits, liberal stop-over privileges.

The rate is practically on the basis of one fare for the round trip. Of course, if you wish to visit both California and Oregon or Washington, the cost is slightly more.

These reduced rates are in effect on certain dates in months of May to October, inclusive. They apply from all Eastern points via Chicago, St. Louis or Memphis gateways. The Rock Island System will take you up in either Chicago or St. Louis, or at hundreds of other Middle West points and carry you to the Coast in through Standard or Tourist Sleepers with unexcelled Dining Car service. The Rock Island also affords a choice of routes: on the "Scenic" route you can stop off in Colorado—see Salt Lake City—visit Yellowstone National Park; on the "Southern" route you can go via El Paso, thru New Mexico, then "up coast" to San Francisco and on to Portland or Seattle if desired.

In short, these Pacific Coast excursions offer an unusually good chance to see our western country in a comprehensive manner.

If you desire to go only as far as Colorado, there are excursion rates in effect to that section and return, all summer long, specially reduced June 30 to July 4, August 12 and 13, and August 30 to September 4. Extension trips to Ogden or Salt Lake and return at low cost also.

From September 15 to October 31, 1905, one-way tourist or "colonist" tickets will be on sale to California and the Pacific Northwest—about half regular fare.

If interested, send name and address on this coupon, designating which booklet wanted and to what point you plan to go. Name probable date of start also, so we can advise definitely with respect to rates, etc.

Broughton and others, I, or one of my Deputies will, on Monday, the 26, day of June, 1905, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m., at the Court house door in Barbourville, Knox County, Ky., expose to public sale to the highest bidder, the following property (or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount of the Plaintiff's debt, interest and cost): 100 acres of land bounded as follows: on the east by the land of John Mills, on the south by the land of Wm. Smith, on the west by the lands of Bingham & Persifall, on the north by the lands of Wm. Carnes and John Hammons, lying on the Road Fork of Stinking creek, Knox county, Ky., levied on as the property of William Mills.

Terms—Sale will be made on a credit of six months, bond with approved security required, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from day of sale, and having the force and effect of Replevin bond. This 9 day of May, 1905.

THE HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

SEE WORK THAT MOON IN HEAVEN.
 She kept at me, that little one,
 An orphan child of three,
 And whispered the story of her life
 Beside her mother's knee.
 No gentle hand upon her head
 In soft caresses laid.
 No sweet voice murmuring her name—
 She knelt alone and prayed.
 The tear drops resting on her cheek
 A tale of sorrow told.
 For even she, that angel child,
 Had found the world was cold,
 And murmured forth with tiny hands
 Up-pointing to the skies,
 "God take me to my mother when Poor little Lily dies."

The angels, passing, heard the prayer,
 And in their own moonlight
 Bent down and breathed upon the child.
 And kissed her forehead white;
 And bearing her will a voice of love
 Thro' the blue depths of even,
 They laid her in her mother's arms
 She woke that noon in Heaven.

The memory of mispent years should not hang about your neck; so long as you have a desire for better things, you still have in reserve, greater or less in proportion to the earnestness of your aspirations, the very power you need in attaining what you seek. Thousands of bad boys have changed their course radically and become good and useful men. The ablest cardinal and statesman of France in his day was known as the incorrigible boy Richelieu. Mazarin, when young was a reckless gambler. Dannaus was a worthless, idle boy. St. Augustine was called a reprobate when a boy. Whitefield, the great preacher, was a thief when young, and his mother kept a public house. President Thiers was the worst pupil in school; he would strike his teacher when angry, and no punishment awed him. All at once he changed his course, and determined to become President of France, although he was very poor. Great men are but common men more fully developed.

SEE THE GOOD.

"Bear one another's burdens" may be supplemented by the injunction to share each other's sorrows as well as their joys. One of the truest signs of a narrow and defiant nature is the ability to perceive the weaknesses of others. We are much better employed when seeking to discover and appreciate excellences in our fellow-beings. "Let us not talk of his faults," says Dr. Johnson of his dead friend, Goldsmith. "Let us not criticise his weakness, for he was a very great man." By the exercising of this comfortable and comforting propensity we bless the living, create precious memories of the dead and avoid many bitter and unavailing regrets. We lubricate the machinery of life, exalt the business of living and give it a tone, an irresistible spirit, influence and stimulus of good. Civility is an expression of kindness; were all men civil we should lead a royal life. The expression of kindness is a law stronger for human good than many a cold decree of state. The father on the farm who comes to breakfast with a scowl, who snaps and snarls at his wife and children, not only makes himself needlessly miserable but casts a damp over the whole household. How cheerful is a smile and yet how valuable. The success of the Japanese, their ability to endure hardships, their immunity from disease, their invisible fortitude under difficulties are largely due to the fact that they are a nation of smilets. Good humor, which is a national trait with them, is cultivated from earliest childhood, and after centuries of practice has become a second nature. And how precious a possession is this quality called good humor. Invaluable to the individual, it is equally so in business and for a nation it is almost better than a constitution.

AN OBJECT LESSON.

"All I ask," said Nan Patterson in the Tombs, "is to go back to my dear old father and mother, to the dear old home, to forget, if I can, my long sufferings and be a little girl again."

There was a time when Nan Patterson was an innocent, pure and happy girl, the same as are scores who will read this article. She was pretty. Her parents were justly praised for her. Loosely girlhood she appeared behind the footlights of the stage. Our readers are all familiar with what has followed. Her picture has appeared in all our metropolitan papers. Three times she has been tried for murder, and still no jury can agree as to her guilt.

Hearts of strong men have turned back to the old home for refuge in times like this. The fundamental instincts of human nature are so strong, unerring and universal that when we are led by sin into sorrow deep, we turn to the good old home.

Nan Patterson will now, in all probability, be free to go home. But she can never take back to the old home the innocent childhood she took away from it. Neither will the old home look natural to her, for a many more ages has cast a shadow on the dreary rooms, a mortgage placed there by forgiving parents to protect their child's neck from the hangman's rope. A deeper shadow has fallen on the unfortunate girl than upon her home, and has fallen upon her by her own sin.

Her father, in the sunset of life, did not forsake a girl in her hour of trouble. And the invalid mother, daily sent her messages of love and cheer. These doing parents can never again be as they were before her sin but their forms and whitened their locks.

Too many of our most promising children allured by the bright flowers, the butterflies, the rainbow, may forget and wander far from home. But when sin bruises their feet and their limbs become weary and the heart sore they will cry for the good old home once more.

Matured men and women have a little stronger limbs and harder hearts; they can chase the butterflies and rainbows a little further; and then they, too, like poor Nan Patterson, must see the mocking folly of it all and weary and heartily long for the old home and mother.

No penalty is so sure as that which comes with the suicide or sin. You may hold the beautiful flower you have plucked back to the stem; but it gets no life there again. Nan Patterson can return to her old home but a cloud will ever hover over it. Her innocence cannot return any more than the plucked flower can again grow to the stem.

Too many of our young people like Nan Patterson, who had good homes and good parents have wandered so far from them that the journey back to innocent childhood and peace is too far for feet of clay. Let the young learn an object lesson from the sorrows that have overtaken Nan Patterson and that overtake all who seek pleasure in paths of sin.

Alex Smith, Plaintiff,
T. E. B. Siler, etc Defendants.

By virtue of a judgment made and entered at the April term 1905 of the Knox Circuit Court I will on Monday the 26 day of June 1905 at the front door of the court house in Barbourville, Ky., between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. sell to the highest and best bidder on a credit of 3 months a tract of land and lease on the waters of Little Richland creek on the land of Alex Smith, commencing at a sycamore on the bank of the creek and running thence to wire fence, to sweet gum at the county road; thence a straight line south-westerly to James McDonald, rock corner, on the south by the land of J. W. McDonald and on the west by the land of A. C. Mitchell and school-house lot, containing about 12 acres, being the lease made by Alex Smith and wife to T. E. B. Siler September 25 1902. The said lease is of record in the clerk's office of the Knox county court in lease book No 5, page 165, also the casing, tubing, sucro rods and lead lines, now in and connected to the two oil wells on the said land, one 250 barrel tank and tank-house on said lease, and a half interest in an oil lease that John Hammons and wife executed to E. M. Benchley and by him assigned, one half interest to the Myersdale Oil & Gas Co. which oil lease is of record in the same office in lease book 5, at page 208, and for boundary of land and lease the said record is referred to; one half interest in the casing and tubing, sucro rods, jacks, pulleys, and lead lines, in 4 wells on said lease, which land is also on said branch and in said county; one half interest in one oil lease executed by James N. Hayes to said Clinton, on a tract of land in said county and on said waters, which lease is of record in said office in lease book 5 page 176; one half interest in one oil lease executed by I. H. Byrley, Alex Sommer and by him assigned to said Clinton, on a tract of land in said county, on said waters, which lease is of record in said office lease book 5 page 180, and for boundary of same the record is referred to; one half interest in one 100 barrel tank and tank house, casing, tubing and sucro rods in said well, on said land; reference to the boundaries of all said land and leases is made to the records, all the one half interests to be sold being the one half therein of the Myersdale Oil & Gas Co.

The said property will be sold to raise the sum of $260, with interest from the 8th day of March 1904, until paid and the sum of $92, cost the purchaser will give bond with good security bearing interest from date until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment and retaining a lien on said property until the money is paid. This June 6 1905.

48 SOUTH THIRD STREET
PHILADELPHIA.

To the Investors and Stockholders:—

We offer subject to sale 100,000 Shares of the Capital stock of the Carolina Copper Company at $.50 PER SHARE.

This Company is capitalized for $1,000,000. and is divided into 1,000,000 Shares of $1.00 Par Value.

The property of the Carolina Copper Company, which contains over Five Hundred Acres of land and includes the Holloway Mine which is the most prominent mine in the district, is located about fifty miles East of Danville, Virginia, on a spur of the Southern Railway, extending to Granville County, North Carolina.

Extensive development work has been carried on, by the expenditure of many thousands of dollars to determine the ore bodies, and the methods of treating the same. While the ore averages from Twenty to Thirty Dollars per ton Copper, also carrying a small per centage of Gold and Silver, Ninety per cent of this value can be saved by concentrating the ore. After the concentrating plant is completed, the company will then be on a paying basis and dividends forthcoming.

While the Company is only capitalized for $1,000,000., only 800,000 Shares have been issued, including the 100,000 Shares, which we are now offering, and furthermore, we are safe in saying that after this allotment is sold, no more stock will be offered, for the simple reason that these 100,000 Shares will supply ample funds for the erection of the Concentrating plant, and when completed the stock will no longer sell at $.50 Per Share, but will advance to $1.00 per share, and when the dividends are declared, the stock will go far above Par Value.

The Board of Directors are men of high repute, of which we hereby give the list as follows:—

Mr. J. E. Stott, Harrisburg, Pa.	Mr. T. F. Windle, Parkersburg, Pa.
Mr. W. A. P. Thompson, Coatesville, Pa.	Mr. Chas. P. Lukens, "
Mr. F. W. Speakman, "	Mr. W. W. Fry, Philadelphia, "
Mr. E. H. Doan, "	Mr. G. H. B. Martin, Camden, N. J.

We have prepared a prospectus and same will be mailed to you upon application; same gives you in detail the proposition we are now presenting to you and owing to the limited space which we have secured in this paper, we are unable to go into detail here.

Yours very truly,
